

Snapshot of Success

"We love the spot color capabilities of the RZ990!"

First Baptist Community Church of Los Gatos

First Baptist Community Church of Los Gatos, California, enjoys a long history. Its faithful following has witnessed two world wars, economic disaster, and even a pastor's arrest mid sermon for preaching that young men should not go to war in 1914. This independent, fundamental Baptist church never lost sight of its beliefs and has continued to thrive for over 90 years.

RISO digital duplicators have been part of First Baptist's communications plan for several years. First Baptist Community Church of Los Gatos recently brought in a RISO RZ990, RISO's flagship digital duplicator, as part of their printing services. Printing at 180 pages per minute for as little as a third of a cent per page, the RZ990 helps the church reduce both their production time and their printing costs.

First Baptist prints about 300,000 pages annually on their RISO, enough to keep it busy four days a week. Most of the documents they print are in black and white, but they love the spot color capabilities of the RZ990 and utilize their color cylinders regularly. Other attributes that make the RZ990 popular with First Baptist are its high quality printing as well as speed and ease of operation. It makes work simpler and allows employees to manage their time more efficiently.

By printing in house, the First Baptist Community Church of Los Gatos benefits in many ways. Documents can be edited up to the last minute when printing in house, and the church can print as many or as few copies that are needed. RISO duplicators are extremely energy efficient; they use only 3.5 amps while producing copies, which is 98% less energy than a photocopier uses while printing. The RISO digital duplicator's heatless printing process also means fewer breakdowns and fewer service calls for the church.

With two Sunday services, Sunday school, Awana Clubs for youth, Sanctuary Choir, Wednesday prayer meetings, Friday prayer breakfasts, and more, First Baptist Community Church of Los Gatos is an active, growing community of believers. And at 180 copies a minute, the RISO RZ990 keeps up with all the printing needs of this busy church.
